

Bank Announces Achievement Award Winners in Local Area

Winners in this area in the first round of Bank of America's statewide Achievement Awards program for high school seniors were announced this week.

For outstanding scholarship, leadership and promise of future service to society, all will receive certificates of achievement, and some will get additional honors and a chance at the $34,500 in cash awards the bank will present to Southern California students.

AWARDS cover practically all high school subjects: vocational arts, liberal arts, fine arts and science and mathematics.

More than 2500 Southern California students will receive certificates; 900 will get engraved trophies, and 252 will win cash awards. There will be 12 awards of $1000, and others ranging down to a large group of $25 awards.

Most of the 800 trophy winners will go to the zone competitions to compete against other schools in this area in April, appearing before a judging panel of civic leaders who will listen to them in group discussions of subjects related to their studies. The judges will add their scores to the students' scholarship and activity records and name the winners.

IN THE ZONE competition, all third place winners will receive $25 cash awards; second place winners, $50, and all first place winners will go on to the finals in May, where they will receive not less than $150 and may win up to $1000.

To operate such a large program, the bank divides the state into six geographical divisions, with identical awards in each division. The statewide total in cash awards will set a new high mark this year — $69,000 in all.

AiResearch Puts Doppler On Viscount

The first installation of a Collins Doppler radar navigation system in a Vickers Viscount was completed recently by The Garrett Corp.'s AiResearch Aviation Service Division, Los Angeles International Airport.

Completely self-contained and independent of any ground radio assistance, the system, unusual equipment for a business airplane, was installed for Tennessee Gas and Transmission Co.

The four-engine plane will be used for long range flights to the tip of South America, where ground radio facilities are practically nil.

Its combination of navigation radar and navigation computer systems provides a heading for the autopilot, deviation from course, ground speed and distance remaining to destination.

The installation included Doppler control, computer tracker control, drift and ground speed indicators, tracking and computing equipment, antenna, and a radome specially designed by AiResearch. The radome was fabricated by McMillan Industries.

AiResearch completed its conversion work on the Viscount with modification of the radio system, installation of a navigator's station, additional fuel capacity in the wings and a custom business executive interior.
